Project Report

INTRODUTION

Overview

In this the main goal was to analyze the sales of video games in different regions. The regions are North America, Europe, Japan, other countries(combined) and then the global sales(total of all the regions). The main idea was to visualize the sales for different genres, publishers and platforms. This would give the basic idea about the most popular genres, publishers and platforms amongst all. Also analyzing the effect of genres on sales in different regions.

Purpose

We must look at the parts of games and how they interact in order to understand how each parts relates to the player experience. The more we analyze the games we play. The more we understand what makes a game good. Critical analysis is also useful when examining our own works in progress.

Conclusion 1
Conclusion 2
The love for the video games was increasing exponentially till 2008 but it is gradually decreasing since then,this is due to the lack of creativity, awareness or interest. This is the reason why most of the games are sold in North america as compared to the other part of the world.

APPLICATIONS

1. Platforms, can be obtained from the sales of 'Action' type games have been at a high level, therefore, major platforms can give priority to 'Action' type games when buying video games. People can see that although the DS platform has released the largest number of games, the revenue earned is only the 5th among the major platforms, indicating that the number of games released is not proportional to the revenue earned, and the major platforms still need to carefully measure and filter to decide on the purchase of games.

2. Publishers, people can get that publishers put their games into PS2, X360, PS3, Will, DS platforms to sell, and make more profit with less risk. People can get that publishers inventing 'Action' and 'Sports' type of games will cater to the market and gain more revenue, but there is also a risk of competition in the same industry.

3. Users, it can be obtained that users focus on PS2, X360, PS3, Will, DS platforms and may get cost effective products. When specifying a certain game genre to select the games for the platform, people can first conduct the corresponding statistical analysis. For example, when specifying the 'Action' type of game for the platform selection, provides statistics. It can be concluded that on the basis of the 'Action' type of games, the number of PS3 platform games ranked first, accounting for 11%, indicating that the PS3 platform is experienced in running the market for 'Action' type games, and users may get a better sense of experience. Therefore, users can look for 'Action' type games for PS3 platform first.

CONCLUSION

This paper focuses on cleaning, descriptive analysis, data analysis of related contents and data visualization of the video game dataset to derive the corresponding business application strategies for different groups in the market. The results show that platforms can prioritize the purchase of games in the 'Action' genre and need to focus more on game distribution quality than quantity; publishers should choose platforms and game genres with high sales to sell and invent; users should focus on platforms with high sales and experience to choose a certain type of game product. This study can stimulate game marketing and economy and bring the market into a virtuous cycle. Although this paper uses K-Means algorithm to divide the sales of video game products, it does not dig deeper and analyze the products in each division, and more commonality of products under each division can be explored for improving and proposing better business strategies. The video game market will have broader sales prospects and is worth promoting and propagating vigorously.

FUTURE SCOPE

Gaming is now a bigger industry than movies and sports combined. Revenue for gaming reached $184 billion in 2022, and the number of gamers is expected to grow to 3.6 billion by 2025. It's not just kids either: 38 percent of gamers are between the ages of 18 and 34 years, and 16 percent are older than 55.
